

Employer Services

Today's labor force is increasingly dependent upon a new source of workers- parents who both work, and single parents. SCCP can assist employers who recognize the link between supportive family policies and good business.

Services for employers include...

- free initial consultation on the world of child care and a variety of "family friendly" initiatives for businesses of all sizes.
- feasibility studies, planning and assistance with the implementation of family-oriented policies such as flexible work hours, a wide array of benefits or dependent care assistance plans.
- management of selected services such as emergency employer sponsored child care plans or the administration of child care vouchers.
- enhanced child care resource and referral services, on site seminars, information booths and / or financial assistance information tailored to the needs of specific employee groups.
